AYLUS Roslyn Branch

Current Position: President and Founder of the Roslyn Branch

Desired Position: Vice President

Second Choice: Chief Philanthropy Officer

Hi, I'm Yang Amy Wu, running for AYLUS vice president. As the founder and president of the Roslyn branch, student government representative, and debate team captain, I have gained aptitudes for public speaking, critical thinking, communication, time management, and divergent problem-solving skills that would make me an excellent candidate for vice president. I have also shown my commitment to AYLUS through writing for the AYLUS TIMES and participating in AYLUS competitions.

In the two years since its establishment, the Roslyn branch has embraced the art of giving back to the community. We lent our hand to the medical community by leading Alzheimer's walks, hosting games for cancer children, and caring for adults with intellectual disabilities. We've partnered with state parks to preserve local ecosystems' biodiversity and petitioned for endangered species awareness. We've contributed to our community through food banks, clothing drives, and hosted children's carnivals at the local library. We dabbled in cultural propagation through Lunar New Year events and Memorial Day air shows and marched for the coalition against bullying. We have ceaselessly shown our dedication to our community through a multifaceted manner.

As vice president, I hope to further help AYLUS attain its full potential as a paragon of community spirit and humanitarian compassion. I will accomplish this by working with newer branches to help ease their acclimation by helping them connect with local organizations or advising them on hosting their own events. I also will provide technical aid to newer branches such as how to upload reports. While there already exists a group chat for advisors, I wish to establish a forum to interconnect all AYLUS branches across the nation to provide a space for student leaders to discuss issues, share experiences, ask questions, and brainstorm ideas to further apply ourselves to our communities. "Alone we are strong, but together we are stronger."

Much like that quote, our individual branches' efforts are slowly changing the world, but by banding together, we can create a longstanding impact on this world by bringing more smiles to people's faces and cultivating the community spirit of giving.
