Short Essay on why applying for this position (150-350 words):

My name is Natalie Tsui and I am currently a vice president for the Roslyn AYLUS branch and was previously one of the treasurers last year. I've had over 220 hours volunteering with AYLUS and hope to continue serving my community and others in the future. As a national leader I would communicate effectively with other leaders, coordinate more activities nationwide and encourage more people to join AYLUS. I am applying for the position of Food Insecurity Relief Chair because a large problem that countless communities are facing is malnutrition and food insecurity. Many individuals do not have proper access to food and often have to skip meals or compromise on food quality. Throughout my time with AYLUS, I have spent over 100 hours at a food pantry giving food to families in need and providing grocery delivery services for individuals who are unable to leave their homes. I have learned that reducing food insecurity can start locally and can begin small. Being elected as a national leader would enable me to spread awareness for malnutrition and encourage efforts to reform this issue to people both in and outside my community. Each branch could collect non perishable goods, provide meals, and donate money to help serve their community. This way, branches could aid their local communities and contribute to improving food insecurity. As a member of AYLUS for the last 4 years, I have seen this organization grow and volunteer thousands of hours. AYLUS has had huge impacts and I hope that we continue to grow and expand further.
