Hi, my name is Hua Tiffany Lin, and I am honored to be running for Vice President of AYLUS. As the Vice President of the Roslyn Branch, I have helped lead our team in growing from just 5 members to nearly 100, organizing over 200 community service events across a wide range of causes. None of our impact would’ve been possible without the support of the national AYLUS. I am grateful for all that National AYLUS has given me, and I hope to give back by contributing more through national leadership and helping expand its impact.

In just a few years, Roslyn branch has partnered with groups like the Long Island Native Plant Initiative and Be a Good Egg, building connections while advancing environmental awareness and impact. As president of Roslyn High School’s Environmental Club, these projects have deepened my understanding of environmental responsibility and allowed me to connect with professionals and community members who share this passion. In the medical field, I support patients at NYU Langone Hospital. Listening to their stories has shown me how much a simple act of care can mean and how everyone can have an impactful influence. Organizing Lunar New Year celebrations and teaching Chinese culture, delivering food with NOSH, and leading donation drives have not only helped me better understand the struggles faced by minority communities. These experiences have shaped me into a more empathetic, aware, and engaged leader, reinforcing my commitment to serve and uplift those around me.

I believe I have the ability to help AYLUS reach more people and further promote its core values of Leadership, Integrity, and Innovation. As the Committee Chair for Creative Music in the past year, I collaborated with professionals in music to create music songs for national AYLUS, which strengthened my creativity and adaptability. As vice president of Roslyn AYLUS Branch, president of my school’s Environmental Club, and vice president of the World Language National Honor Society, I have gained leadership experience that I am eager to extend beyond school walls and into the broader community. Above all, I strive to lead with integrity, being honest, dependable, and accountable in all that I do, so I can continue building trust within AYLUS and inspiring others to serve in the community.

If elected as Vice President, I will dedicate myself to uniting our efforts and helping AYLUS grow as a national force for youth-led change. With my background in creative music, visual design and outreach, I will support the organization through creative social media, graphic design, and fundraising initiatives. I also hope to help establish more branches across the U.S. and take the first steps toward expanding AYLUS internationally, transforming it into a global platform for youth service and leadership. Thank you for your consideration.
